

Thank you, BoCC

Three nonprofit citizens' groups — The Sugarloaf Conservancy, Citizens Against Kempton Electric Substation and the Urbana Civic Association Inc. — came together to express appreciation to the Frederick County Board of County Commissioners for the board's access, ready willingness to address groups and concerns, and attitude toward each group's potential serious plight, should PATH (Potomac-Appalachian Transmission Highline) cut through the Sugarloaf area, onto a huge substation between Kempton and Mount Airy.

We also wish to express our gratitude to the BoCC for backing the conservancy in the early days of its organization and the articulate and forceful letter recently signed by Jan Gardner to the PSC taking issue with the usurping of county authority in placement of the proposed substation.
