TO PREVENT MORE
THIS!

Buried High-Voltage Direct Current (HVDC) can do the job better than the one-hundred-year-old technology PATH would string across Maryland. Sugarloaf Conservancy's 18" x 24" yard sign will declare your opposition to PATH's poorly planned project that would erect massive 765KV transmission lines and towers across Frederick County. Order more than one to pass on to your neighbors and get the word out.
